Russ Kommer's CRKT® Pelvic Tool/Sharpener (P.T.S.™) belongs on the belt of every successful hunter.

Russ Kommer keeps coming up with ideas for high-value knives and tools that every hunter needs. We at Columbia River Knife & Tool® (CRKT®) recognized many uses for his unique chisel/sharpener.

Russ designed the P.T.S.™ (Pelvic Tool/Sharpener) because splitting the pelvic bone when dressing larger animals such as White Tail Deer and Alaskan Moose is difficult with a conventional blade, and may cause damage to the knife as well.

The P.T.S. is a high-carbon steel wedge with a chisel edge which will neatly split the cartilage at the pelvic bone seam aided by the tap of a nearby rock. There is no need to pack a hatchet.

In addition, we have coated the P.T.S. with a No. 400 diamond grit, creating a useful field sharpener. Use the flat side to touch up hunting knives. The back side has two grooves designed to sharpen fishhooks and arrow broadheads. The tapered, rounded edges are just right to sharpen serrated knife edges, including conventional serrations and our exclusive patented* Veff™ Serrations.

And in typical CRKT style, we have included a braided leather thong for grip and a handy nylon sheath with the P.T.S.

This unique hunting tool has an MSRP of only $39.99.
